

#500 The Rise of Michael the Archangel – Michael the Archangel and Russia

Russian icon,
Michael the Archangel

In Unsealings #498–#499 was discussed Michael the Archangel and War; in this Unsealing #500 is discussed Michael the Archangel and Russia. Michael the Archangel is significantly attached to both war and Russia, and all are a part of Daniel 12.

Michael the Archangel and Russia. It is plain and simple.

Russians for hundreds of years have closely identified with Michael the Archangel because Michael the Archangel was considered to be the angelic warrior and protector of the Prince-led Muscovites, the Tsarist-led Russian Orthodox Empire, and the Russian Orthodox faith. Michael was the guardian of Russian Princes and Russian soldiers in their feats of arms. Many monasteries and cathedrals in Russia were dedicated to the Chief Commander Michael. In the land of Russia, there was hardly a city where there was not a church or chapel dedicated to the Archangel Michael.

In the land of Russia, there was hardly a city where there was not a church or chapel dedicated to the Archangel Michael. This is the chapel of Archangel Michael, Island of Kizhi, 18th century.

In Moscow itself, the Archangel Michael's Cathedral has been the burial place of Moscow Princes and Tsars up until the time of Peter the Great (the early 1700's). The tombs of Ivan the Great (Ivan III) and Ivan the Terrible (Ivan the IV) and of others of the Rurikovich Dynasty are located there, along with tombs of rulers of the Romanov Dynasty, including its founder, Mikhail Romanov. [Remember, Peter the Great built St. Petersburg, moving the capital of Russia from Moscow to there. Thereafter, what is known as Peter and Paul Cathedral in St. Petersburg – still attached to the Orthodox faith – became the burial place for most of the Romanov Dynasty.]

Key Understanding: The dogma of Michael the Archangel permeated Russian war, politics, culture, and religion.

*Daniel 12:1 (NIV) AT THAT TIME MICHAEL [the Archangel], *the great prince who protects your people, WILL ARISE. There will be a time of distress such as has not happened from the beginning of nations until then. But at that time your people—everyone whose name is found written in the book—will be delivered.
