

#518 The Rise of Michael the Archangel – The Time of Troubles, part 7, The Hebrew word for trouble in “a time of trouble” in Daniel 12:1 is tsarah, from tsar

The word tsar, referring to the ruler of Russia, is an alternative spelling of czar, which comes from the Latin Caesar. The German Kaiser has the same derivation. Kaiser was the title given to German rulers of the Hohenzollern Second Reich (1871-1918), and its meaning is equivalent to the title of Russian Tsar, first given to Ivan the Terrible (1547-1584, as Tsar, and before that his title was Grand Duke of Muscovy), and conferred upon afterwards to his son Feodor I (1584-1598), and then upon all of the Romanov rulers (1613-1917).

The root of the Hebrew word for trouble is tsar.

Key Understanding: Trouble and tsar go together. Given the fact that Ivan the Terrible was the first ruler of Russia to be crowned with the title of Tsar, and then – because of the semi-accidental murder in 1581 of his eldest son, Ivan – became directly responsible for The Time of Troubles, it is obviously remarkable that the Lord designed that the Hebrew word for trouble in Daniel 12:1 comes from tsar. Trouble and tsar go together. [Ultimately why the Lord designed that trouble and tsar go together is because the Tsar of Russia – the leader of the Holy Russian Empire – was basically the husband and head of the Russian Orthodox Church, and, as such, a political antichrist figure for the Church (like the President of the United States), replacing the Lord Jesus Christ. That is to be expanded upon later.]

The Tsar Bell in Moscow, at 195 tons, is the largest bell in the world. It was cast in Moscow in 1735. Unfortunately it was damaged by a fire in 1737 before it could be hung. Since then it has stood on a platform in the Kremlin. The fragment that broke away weighs about 11 tons.

*Daniel 12:1 (KJV) And at that time SHALL MICHAEL [the Archangel] STAND UP, the great prince which standeth for the children of thy people: and there shall be A TIME OF TROUBLE [Strong’s #6869, tsarah, which comes from #6862, tsar], such as never was since there was a nation even to that same time: and at that time thy people shall be delivered, every one that shall be found written in the book.*
