

#934 The Woman is also the John Calvin Church/State – John Calvin and chauvinism, and the Woman, the patriotic female chauvinist

Chauvinism. John Calvin was born Jean Cauvin, or Jean Chauvin. It is the same word from which chauvinism is derived. In fact, the word chauvinist originates from the life of another Chauvin, Nicolas Chauvin.

Nicolas Chauvin. Nicolas Chauvin (left, with another depiction on the right) was a semi-mythical soldier and patriot who served in Napoleon’s French Republic army. Chauvin enlisted at age 18, and served honorably and well. He was wounded 17 times in the nation’s service, resulting in his severe disfigurement and maiming. For his loyalty and dedication, Napoleon himself presented the soldier with the Saber of Honor and a pension of 200 francs. However, Chauvin’s patriotism actually earned him ridicule and derision in post-Napoleonic France. Passionate nationalism was less in vogue, and he was made a mockery of in several plays which were produced for the original Vaudeville, including La Cocarde Tricolore (1831). Through the plays, the term “chauvinism” came to mean excessive nationalistic fervor, or blind and excessive patriotism.

Super-patriots and the national mission. In the purest sense, the word chauvinism means someone who has adopted a spirit of super-patriotism, usually associated with a belief in a “national mission” of their country that would bring light to the world. However, chauvinism has since then been applied to any number of demographic categories, particularly sex – as in a male chauvinist – but also age, race, blood, religion, etc.

Key Understanding #1: John Calvin and chauvinism. The Lord ordained the name Chauvin, or Calvin in English, to become associated with nationalistic patriotism, because nationalistic patriotism is the end-product of the “God and country” church/state doctrines of John Calvinism.

Key Understanding #2: The Woman, the patriotic female chauvinist. John Calvin’s last name means bald because the sword-bearing and corresponding church/state teachings of Calvinism represent (a) a rebellious, usurping wife/woman, a bald Church, who attempts to rule over the kingdoms of the world before the return of the Lord, and who has thrown off the head covering of her husband, the Lord, and (b) the upstart Woman of Revelation 17:18, who claims to be “One Nation Under God,” but who truly does not have God as her husband, and instead is “that Great City” Babylon.

In essence, the ultimate trek of the “God and government” theology of John Calvin has led the church to produce the Woman of Revelation 17:18, the patriotic female chauvinist.

Ephesians 5:32 (KJV) This is a great mystery: but I speak concerning CHRIST [represented by the man, the husband] AND THE CHURCH [represented by the woman, the wife].

Revelation 17:18 (KJV) And THE WOMAN which thou sawest IS THAT GREAT CITY [Babylon the Great], which reigneth over the kings of the earth.
