

#1677 The Yom Kippur War and the Abomination of Desolation – The series of 4’s (fours) leading up to and surrounding the latter day(s) fulfillment of Daniel 8:9 through Harry Truman and the Atomic Bomb, part 5e, The Four-Power Rule over Germany: Adolf Hitler as a second Alexander the Great, (iii), Rudolf Hess of Alexandria, Egypt, and Mein Kampf

Mein Kampf. Mein Kampf (English translation: My Struggle) was a book written by Adolf Hitler that combined elements of an autobiography with an exposition of his National Socialist (Nazi) political ideology. Volume 1 was published in 1925 and Volume 2 in 1926. Hitler wrote the book while serving a prison sentence with Rudolph Hess following a failed coup d’etat – the Beer Hall Putsch (Putsch is the German word for “coup”) – in an attempt to gain power in Germany.

Hitler felt he needed to make sure that the public knew what he stood for, so he began dictating a book to Rudolph Hess and his chauffeur Emil Maurice. It is Rudolph Hess who is said to have suggested that the name for the book be Mein Kampf (My Struggle).

Mein Kampf* and Alexander the Great. In Mein Kampf, the idea of Germany becoming a second empire of Alexander the Great is actually mentioned, but ironically in the negative.

Here is one translation of that particular part of Mein Kampf:

But it is our task, and it is the mission of the National Socialist Movement, to develop in our people that political mentality which will enable them to realize that the aim which they must set to themselves for the fulfillment of their future must not be some wildly enthusiastic adventure in the footsteps of Alexander the Great but industrious labour with the German plough (plow), for which the German sword will provide the soil.

And another translation:

Our task, the mission of the National Socialist Movement, is to bring our own people to such political insight that they will not see their goal for the future in the breath-taking sensation of a new Alexander’s conquest, but in the industrious work of the German plow, to which the sword need only give soil.

Key Understanding: Alexander the Great is further connected historically and prophetically with Adolf Hitler through Rudolph Hess and Mein Kampf. Rudolph Hess, Deputy Fuhrer of the Third Reich, assisted Adolf Hitler in the writing of Mein Kampf and is given credit for having suggested the name of the book. The Lord ordained the idea of a National Socialist (Nazi) Germany following in the footsteps of the empire of Alexander the Great to be mentioned in Mein Kampf – albeit ironically in the negative – because Adolf Hitler would soon serve in the prophetic role as a second Alexander the Great.

Rudolph Hess was born in Alexandria, Egypt, which was founded by Alexander the Great and which was the capital of the Egyptian Ptolemies. The Ptolemies ruled one of the four kingdoms that arose out of the empire of Alexander the Great.

Here is the shadow fulfillment of Daniel 8:8 by Adolf Hitler of Nazi Germany as a second Alexander the Great:

*Daniel 8:8 (KJV) Therefore THE HE GOAT [Germany] WAXED VERY GREAT: and when he was strong, THE GREAT HORN WAS BROKEN [Adolf Hitler's suicide on April 30, 1945, and Nazi Germany's surrender on May 7, 1945, ending 12 years of rule]; and for it [from it] came up FOUR NOTABLE ONES [represented by the Four-Power Rule over post-World War II Germany by the United States, Great Britain, France, and the USSR] TOWARD THE FOUR WINDS OF HEAVEN.

<< Previous

Main Page and List of Unsealing Summaries

Next >>