

#1986 The Yom Kippur War and the Abomination of Desolation – The post-World War II U.S. waxing great toward the South and toward the East as a second Syria/Antiochus IV Epiphanes, part 245, The House of Orange, (xxiii), The Lord ordained Princeton University to be prominently associated with the end of the Revolutionary War through the September 3, 1783, ‘Oswald’ Peace of Paris for the purpose of confirming America’s rise as the Beast out of the Pit in Revelation 17:08

Key Understanding: It was at Princeton that Congress received notification of the ‘Oswald’ Treaty of Paris. The Lord ordained Princeton University, the name of which is derived from William III of Orange, to be prominently associated with the end of the Revolutionary War through the September 3, 1783, ‘Oswald’ Peace of Paris for the purpose of confirming America’s rise as the Beast out of the Pit in Revelation 17:08. [The next Unsealing will cover the role of Princeton University at the time of the end of the Revolutionary War.]

A brief overview of the early history of Princeton University. The history of Princeton University goes back to its establishment by “New Light” Presbyterians. Princeton was originally intended to train

Presbyterian ministers. It was originally founded at Elizabeth, New Jersey, in 1746 as the College of New Jersey. Its first president was Jonathan Dickinson; its second president was Aaron Burr, Sr.; its third president was Jonathan Edwards. In 1756, the college relocated to Princeton, New Jersey. Between the time of the move to Princeton in 1756 and the construction of Stanhope Hall in 1803, the college’s sole building was Nassau Hall, named for William III of England of the House of Orange-Nassau. The college also got one of its colors, orange, from William III. During the American Revolution, Princeton was occupied by both sides, and sustained heavy damage. The Battle of Princeton, fought in a nearby field in January of 1777, proved to be a decisive victory for General George Washington and his troops. From June 30, 1783, to November 4, 1783, the U.S. Congress (under the Articles of Confederation) met in Nassau Hall, making Princeton the country’s capital for four months. [The College of New Jersey was renamed “Princeton University” in 1896.]

Revelation 17:08 (KJV) THE BEAST [America, the Eighth (8th) Kingdom, Revelation 17:11] that thou sawest was, and is not; and SHALL ASCEND OUT OF THE BOTTOMLESS PIT

[having historical roots in the combination of England-Netherlands, but also having the spiritual roots that came with those historical roots. Those spiritual roots were not from God, but were from the spiritual abyss, the spiritual pit, the spiritual netherworld. America's ascension as the 8th Kingdom included the initial phase of Protestant England 'rising' out of the Netherlands, represented through the defeat of the Spanish Armada in '88 (1588) and the successful invasion of the Dutch Armada in '88 (1688), and then included, during the Revolutionary War, the important American victory at Princeton, named after William III, Prince of Orange, and included as well America's Congress meeting in Nassau Hall at Princeton at the time when the Revolutionary War officially ended with the 'Oswald' Treaty of Paris on September 3, 1783, and receiving notification there that the treaty had been signed, giving final recognition to the nation's independence from Great Britain], and go into perdition: and they that dwell on the earth shall wonder, whose names were not written in the book of life from the foundation of the world, when they behold the beast that was, and is not, and yet is.
