

#2194 The Yom Kippur War and the Abomination of Desolation – The post-World War II U.S. waxing great toward the South and toward the East as a second Syria/Antiochus IV Epiphanes, part 453, The Pale Horse, (I), The Pale Horse Rider Assassins: The assassination of Archduke Francis Ferdinand, the nephew of the ‘Pale Horse Rider’ Austrian Emperor Franz Joseph, sparked World War I

Key Understanding: The assassination of the pale horse rider. It was the June 28, 1914, assassination in Sarajevo, Bosnia, of the Archduke of Austria, heir apparent to the throne of the Austrian Empire and nephew of ‘Pale Horse Rider’ Austrian Emperor Franz Joseph (who would rule the Austrian Empire exactly 68 years), that led to the outbreak of World War I. Furthermore, the event of World War I ended the Austrian Empire. The assassination that sparked World War I led to the death of the ‘Pale Horse Rider’ Austrian Emperor.

The assassination of the heir to the Austrian throne, Archduke Franz Ferdinand, which sparked World War I, occurred just a few feet away from this bridge (right) in Sarajevo
