Harry Truman and the Declaration of Independence of the United States

The hometown of U.S. President Harry Truman was Independence, Missouri, a suburb of Kansas City, Missouri. One source says that the name Independence commemorates the United States Declaration of Independence. Another source states that Independence, Missouri, is the seat of Jackson County, Missouri, named for Andrew Jackson, and that the city was named for Jackson's love of independence. At any rate, it is clear that the naming of Independence, Missouri, can either directly or indirectly be traced back to the Declaration of Independence of the United States.

Harry Truman and the Declaration of Independence of Israel

The Declaration of Independence of Israel birthed the nation of Israel on May 14, 1948, during the presidency of Harry Truman. The immediate recognition of the State of Israel by the U.S. was an important legacy of the Truman presidency.
