Palm Beach County. Palm Beach County is a county located in the state of Florida. It was created in 1909, and was named for its first settled community, Palm Beach, which in turn was named for the palm trees and beaches in the area. As of 2000, the population was 1,131,184. Its county seat is West Palm Beach. Palm Beach County is one of three counties that comprise the South Florida metropolitan area.

Election 2000. In Palm Beach County in Election 2000, a confusing “butterfly ballot” gave ultraconservative presidential candidate Patrick Buchanan several thousand votes that should have gone to Democratic presidential candidate Al Gore. The votes would have given Gore a victory in the election in Florida and the overall election, making him the new President of the United States.

Key Understanding: George W. Bush, the Palm Beach president. George W. Bush becoming President of the United States was wrapped around events surrounding Palm Beach County in Election 2000. The Lord designed Election 2000 to unfold as it did, surrounding Palm Beach, to connect George W. Bush with the Great Multitude with “palms in their hands” (Revelation 7:9).

Revelation 7:9 (KJV) After this I beheld, and, lo, A GREAT MULTITUDE, which no man could number, of all nations, and kindreds, and people, and tongues, stood before the throne, and before the Lamb, clothed with white robes, and PALMS IN THEIR HANDS;
